

SCIF SABLES JOE LETA
HUNTING HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

Joe Leta was a past president of the Denver chapter and active with SCI on the national level, serving on many committees. Joe had an endless enthusiasm for promoting wildlife and conservation programs, and was a consistent supporter of Sables, both local and national. The Joe Leta scholarship was placed at Unity College in Maine in 2005.

SCIF SABLES HUNTING HERITAGE
SCHOLARSHIP

This scholarship was established in early 2007 at Texas A&M University-Kingsville, home of the legendary King Ranch. With wide diversity of students from the US and abroad, the university provides students with unique opportunities to become involved with a wide variety of research projects.

“Continuing Our Outdoor Heritage”

SCIF SABLES C.J. MC ELROY
HUNTING HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

The first Sables scholarship was appropriately named for the founder of Safari Club International. This scholarship was established in 2004 at West Virginia University with an endowment to Sables from C.J. Mc Elroy who was a strong believer in the importance of education. He was instrumental in beginning the American Wilderness Leadership Schools (AWLS) to educate teachers about conservation and wildlife management issues and was a strong Sables supporter.

SCIF ELAINE & GUS
VOGELER HUNTING HERITAGE
SCHOLARSHIP

Established in the fall of 2007 at the University of Idaho in Moscow, ID this is the first Sables scholarship in the West. Gus is a Life member of SCI and a life-long hunter and angler. As a Life member of SCI, SCI-PAC and Sables, Elaine is currently an SCI Director At Large and Sables Director. She believes that education is the foundation of continuing our outdoor heritage and has been instrumental in establishing the Sables Scholarship program.

SCIF SABLES SUSAN & JOHN MONSON
HUNTING HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

The University of Montana, Missoula is the site of the Monson scholarship which was established in December, 2007. Susan and John are both SCI and Sables Life members; John is a past president of SCI and Susan serves on the Sables board as Treasurer and volunteers in several other capacities with SCI and Sables.
